

Just for Kids!

Play is one of a young child's most powerful cognitive and social learning tools. Building these skills in young children with a disability will maximize their capacity for positive interactions and overall engagement.

Therapeutic recreation can offer a beneficial extension of traditional therapy services involving the child, their parents or care givers. Our Just for Kids program involves the design and implementation of therapeutic recreation programs that can contribute greatly to a child's growth and help with a variety of social, motor, physical and cognitive skills.

Our program supports children who have:

- *Autism
- *Down Syndrome
- *Cerebral Palsy, Muscular Dystrophy
- *Learning Disabilities
- *Acquired brain injuries
